

MOLOKAI GENERAL HOSPITAL

CERTIFIED NURSE MIDWIFE

Molokai General Hospital, a Queen's Health System Company, is looking for a Certified Nurse Midwife interested in rural health to work in a call-in capacity. Responsibilities include, but are not limited to, providing antenatal, intrapartum, postpartum, and Family Planning services to low-risk women registered in the Nurse-Midwifery Program and collaborates with the consultant OB-GYN, who manages high-risk pregnant women.

Qualifications:

- Graduate of an accredited Nurse-Midwifery school.
- Certification by the American Midwifery Certification Board, the certifying body of the American College of Nurse-Midwives.
- Hawaii State licensure to practice nursing and midwifery.
- BLS/HCP level certification.
- Neonatal Resuscitation Program (NRP) certification.
- Completion of fetal monitoring interpretation and management course, NCC Electronic Fetal Monitoring Certification, within one year of hire date.
- Completion of Electronic Fetal Monitoring continuing competency assessment every two years through re-certification or passing of a comprehensive course.
- Ability to speak, read, write, and understand English.
- Two (2) years recent experience in Nurse-Midwifery Clinical practice.

COMMENTS: One (1) Full-Time position.

Click here to apply online: <http://queensmedicalcenter.org/careers>

For inquiries about this position call 808-553-3120 or email ateves@queens.org

An EEO/AA Employer